Oris SA has been using Letrário's translation services since February 2015 for the translation of our press releases, website and other advertising material. All of our experience with Letrário during this time has been very positive.

In every single instance Letrário's service was exemplary, their staff very friendly and professional, and their attention to detail amazing. Their work has always been delivered on time and with excellent quality. We are absolutely delighted to be working with a partner who demonstrated such dedication and commitment to customer service.

We have no hesitation in recommending Letrário to other companies that may be looking for high quality translation services.
